

List of non-practice published works by members of the NSW bar

Law and literature have a close relationship. Richard Posner is probably the best known commentator; apart from being a federal appeal judge and (yes, these things are measured) the most cited legal scholar of the 20th century, his “Law and Literature” is in its third edition.

In Australia we have Nicholas Hasluck, justice of the Supreme Court of Western Australia, novelist, poet, and author of “The legal labyrinth: the Kisch case and other reflections on law and literature”. Kisch’s Australian experience is a fascinating study for anyone interested in the politics of citizenship (and the joys of dictation tests).

Malcolm Oakes SC has led the production of a list of members of the Sydney Bar who have published books beyond legal texts. Others have contributed, including Dr John Bennett AM, Philip Selth OAM and David Ash. The list covers 200 years. The criteria are authorship of a work which does not have the better (or at least more well-informed) practice of law as its purpose and has 45 or more pages.

If you would like to comment or make suggestions, please email the editor of the Flyer at david.ash@jurisprude.net. It will assist if you provide as much of each of the identifiers as you know, being name, date of admission, title, publisher, place, year, and NLA Bib ID. Thank you. Enjoy.
